

EVERYTHING READY FOR PRESS ASSOCIATION'S BIG TRIP.

Secretary Morningstar Tells of All the Plans to Entertain the "Pencil Pushers."

The annual meeting of the Kentucky Press Association at Madisonville, which convenes in Madisonville, says the Courier-Journal, is expected to be one of the greatest meetings of the association since its organization thirty-two years ago. The Madisonville people are making great preparations for the entertainment of the newspaper people, and there will be no end to the hospitality to be displayed. The first session will be held at the Morton Opera-house, one of the finest places of amusement in the South. It was recently built by Will Morton, a young banker, with a penchant for architecture, who made all the plans and supervised the construction himself. This meeting will be in the nature of a "jolly" for the visitors. There will be speeches of welcome, responses, music and some literary numbers on the program.

On Friday morning there will be a business session, followed by an excursion to Earlington, where the mines will be inspected and where a luncheon will be given in honor of the scribes and their ladies.

In 1878, twenty-three years ago, the association met at Hopkinsville, and a similar excursion was given, which association history records as being one of the most pleasing entertainments ever given in its honor. Earlington bids fair to outdo its former success.

Upon the return to Madisonville in the afternoon, there will be a business session and a drive about the city. In the evening a reception will be given in honor of the guests.

The number who will go on the Western tour is far in excess of the expectations of Secretary R. E. Morningstar, so he has been compelled to change the time of departure from Madisonville to 9:30 o'clock instead of 11:11 p. m. Mr. J. H. Ringgold, of the L. & N. railroad, tendered the association a special engine to take the train to St. Louis from Madisonville, consequently there will be a special train of Pullman cars to leave at 9:30 p. m. This will make the reception shorter, but there is no alternative. This special train will arrive at St. Louis 6 a. m. and the party will be met by the Publicity Committee of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. Just what program this committee will follow has not been made known, but there is no doubt that the three hours will be spent in a manner pleasing to the tourists.

The departure from St. Louis will be taken at 9 o'clock in the morning over the Missouri Pacific, arriving at Jefferson City for dinner and at Kansas City for supper. No attempt will be made at sight-seeing in these two cities. After the short stop at Kansas City, the party will arrive at Horace, Col., for breakfast on Sunday morning and at Pueblo for dinner. Here the Denver and Rio Grande takes the train and reaches Denver at 8:40 p. m.

Former Kentuckians at Denver.

The party will be in charge of former Kentuckians who now reside in that city, and all the principal places will be seen. An informal reception will be given at the Brown Palace Hotel in the evening. An elaborate sight-seeing programme has been arranged for Denver and the day will be most pleasantly employed. The departure from Denver will be Sunday night next.

Colorado Springs, Manitou and Pike's Peak come in next. After that a stop of ten hours at Grand Junction where special entertainment will be provided.

The next stop will be at Salt Lake City, and here there will be two busy days of sight-seeing and feasting. Mr. William Iglehart, formerly of Evansville, Ind., whose wife was Miss Ruth Priest, of Henderson, is proprietor of the Salt Lake City Herald. He heard of the editors coming and at once set to work arranging a programme. Then President D. P. Felt, of the Utah Press Association, called a special meeting of the association to take steps toward the entertainment, and from reports received from the two gentlemen named above there will be "doings" when the Kentuckians reach the "Zion City."

Upon their arrival Wednesday noon, August 7, they will be taken immediately to Saltair Beach for a plunge in the Great Salt Lake. They will remain at the Pavilion for lunch. In the evening they will visit several of the amusement parks and theatres. Thursday morning the most historical and interesting sights of the Mormon people will be taken in and there will be a special recital in the Mormon Tabernacle by the renowned organist, Prof. McClellan. The afternoon will be spent at the Lagoon, a noted resort, and in the evening a special performance will be given by the Wilbur-Kirwan Opera Company in honor of the Kentuckians at the Salt Palace. Friday morning a trolley ride will be taken to Fort Douglas, a regular army post, as the guests of Mr. Will Iglehart, to whom the newspaper men are deeply grateful for his efforts to entertain them during their visit to Salt Lake City. The departure from Salt Lake Friday at 3 p. m., will end the busy stay there. The return trip will be made direct with the exception that three hours will be spent in St. Louis on August 11.

Most Extensive Trip of All.

This is the most extensive trip Secretary Morningstar has ever undertaken to arrange for the "boys," and in speaking of the tour he was enthusiastic in his remarks concerning the railroads which have done so much to make this trip possible. "The L. & N.," he said, has always given the boys everything desired, and in this instance has tendered a special train to St. Louis from Madisonville. Mr. J. H. Ringgold told me that the L. & N. was ready to do everything possible to make the trip a success, and he has certainly done much. The Missouri Pacific also took an active part in assisting me in my work. Col. E. C. Townsend, the General Passenger Agent, designated two of his best assistants to conduct the party, and we shall have Mr. Brainard Allison, of St. Louis, and Mr. R. T. G. Matthews, of

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Names Full County Ticket and Has a Good Time.

SPLENDID TICKET IS CHOSEN.

Speeches Made by Leaders and All Made Ready for Campaign.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF SECRETARY.

The following is the official report of Secretary Zimmer of the proceedings of the Hopkins county Republican convention held at Madisonville Monday:

The Republican county convention was called to order by County Chairman Harvey at 1:30 p. m. After a prayer by Rev. Mackey, the chairman stated the purpose of the convention and called for nominations for temporary chairman and secretary. Dr. J. L. Dulin was elected chairman and F. V. Zimmer secretary. The following committees were then appointed:

Resolutions—John Atkinson, C. J. Waddill, P. W. DeMoss, Tony Bradley, W. P. Scott, Dr. W. F. Kell, Will Robinson.

Credentials—Bob Hall, Garland Fisher, J. D. Rudd, Leland Cullen, Jack Dockery, George Finley, W. D. Caviness.

Rules and Procedure—H. H. Hill, George Crumbaker, Joseph Haywood, C. R. Peyton, Bailey Robinson, F. W. Gardner, Moses Graves.

While the several committees were deliberating rousing speeches were made by several delegates. The assembly was in excellent spirits and repeated applause shook the building to its foundations.

The reports of the several committees were read and approved by vote. The committee on Credentials reported no contests. The fact that the report of the committee on Resolutions was adopted without a dissenting voice was noteworthy, as settling once for all the stand that the party has taken with regard to local issues. Below is the report:

"Your committee beg leave to report the following resolutions: 'We approve the call for this convention; we declare that public office is a public trust, and civil officers are servants of the people. Our officers should be sober, discreet, moral, competent and of good demeanor. True merit should be the test of fitness for office. We are opposed to ring rule and machine methods. The voice of the people should be heard and their rights respected and interests protected. 'We favor law and order, prosperity and progress. The officer and citizen should use every effort to advance the material interests of our country and to secure the peace, good order and happiness of the people. We are opposed to stirring up strife between classes dependent upon each other. We should not array man against man for we are all brothers. Capital and labor should both be protected and be made to respect the rights of each other. We favor progressive enterprises, active capital and honest, industrious workingmen. We have no patience with the man who wants to be out of a job. County government should be faithfully and economically administered in the interests of the whole people. We invite all good citizens to arise above a narrow partisanship and to vote and act with conscience and judgment and to stand up for Hopkins county.'

The following candidates were nominated by acclamation:

Delmont Utley, Miss Belle Story, Shack Wyatt and C. M. Lutz were put in nomination for county school superintendent but all were withdrawn except that of C. M. Lutz before the precincts were called.

Nominations for jailer were then called for. L. H. Johnson, Burr Young, G. W. Gower and Thomas Barnes were presented. After the precincts were called twice all candidates withdrew in favor of L. H. Johnson who was then nominated by acclamation.

For assessor, three names were presented, W. H. Lynn, J. Clark and Samuel Frazier. Only one ballot was taken; J. Clark was dropped and W. H. Lynn asked that his name be withdrawn.

For coroner and surveyor, Chick Foley and Judge William Beard, respectively, were nominated by acclamation.

For magistrates and constables, the following candidates were nominated:

No. 1—Dabney Bishop for magistrate; Claud Hancock for constable.

No. 2—W. D. Laffoon for magistrate.

No. 3—John Todd for magistrate; Geo. Crumbaker for constable.

No. 4—No nominations.

No. 5—John W. Bone for magistrate; R. S. Hill constable.

No. 6—Walker Franklin for magistrate; T. A. Chappel constable.

No. 7—R. R. Graham for magistrate; Robert Crow constable.

Motion to adjourn, carried.

Convention Notes.

F. V. Zimmer says the ticket that was selected Monday ought to cure all sick Republicans if any are sick.

The speech of Mayor Ross before the Republican convention helped to strengthen the feeling of harmony and of security entertained by the Republicans and Independents of Hopkins county.

Will P. Scott was in evidence Monday with his kindly countenance and genial bulk of brain and body contributing all he had to help make the convention notable for the harmony and wisdom of its acts in the effort to select the best men to uphold the honor and credit of Hopkins county and win out before the people at the next November election.

Lat McLaughlin is pluming himself for a campaign of oratory that is sure to make him popular with many who do not personally know him yet, and he will be heard all over the county—some distance at a time, with his sonorous voice. And there are other speakers—Finley, Scott, Waddill, Zimmer, Murphy—maybe a number of others. There is much that might be spoken to the people and the situation may bring out some talent not mentioned and develop latent talent not known before.

It was a big, enthusiastic, harmonious convention and everybody was in a good humor.

THE LIABILITY OF LABOR UNIONS FOR DAMAGES---THE LUCKE CASE.

The latest development in this somewhat famous case is the award on September 19th, by a jury verdict, of $2,500 damages to George W. Lucke, against the Clothing Cutters' and Trimmers' Assembly, No. 7507, of the Knights of Labor. The history of the case may be briefly stated as follows:

Lucke was a clothing cutter of special skill—a sort of artist in that line—employed about two years ago by one of the leading establishments of Baltimore. As he was not a member of the labor union, that body sent a delegation to his employers demanding his discharge and threatening that if this demand was refused, the name of the house would be removed from the directory of "union" business concerns—in plain words, the house would be boycotted.

The employers dared not risk this injury to their business, and Lucke himself, in order to remove the pretext for the threat, applied for membership in the labor union. If he had been admitted, and the difficulty had thus been smoothed away, probably nothing would have been heard of the case by the public. It would have passed, like hundreds of similar cases occurring every day, in which the walking delegate dictates terms to helpless employers and contractors. But "Labor" was not satisfied in this case, with ordinary victory. Lucke was refused admission to the union, under some technical pretense not involving any fault on his part; and the persecution of him was continued until he lost his place. Thus brought to bay, and not permitted even to surrender, he turned upon his enemies and sued the union for damages.

The first suit failed, practically on a point of pleading, but under a ruling of the Court of Appeals a second was brought, which has now resulted in a verdict in his favor. It is reported that an appeal will be taken by the Knights of Labor, and it is to be hoped that this will be done, so that the question may be settled by the highest authority, whether labor unions are, like all other associations of individuals, liable in damages for the effect of their proceedings.

As I have repeatedly pointed out, the heart of the difficulty of dealing with these unions is that they are treated as practically irresponsible. I do not believe they are legally so, although the laws of many states have licensed them to do some things which are forbidden to private citizens or corporations. But there is still law enough to hold them responsible for criminal acts and for civil wrongs, and it is a matter for congratulation when this fact is proved by the courage and persistency of a victim of their oppression.

A money verdict against such a society will of course be, first of all, a claim upon the treasury and property of the organization. But if that does not satisfy the claim, I think any individual member would be liable. If the labor unions wish to remain unlimited partnerships, they must accept the unlimited responsibilities of partners. If they wish to enjoy the limited liability of corporations, they should assume also the form and duties of corporations, and submit to the public inspection and control to which corporations are subject. But they certainly ought not to remain as nondescripts, having no responsibility at all.—R. W. Raymond, in Engineering and Mining Journal, Sept. 29, 1904.

ANOTHER BIG SHOW FOR LOUISVILLE.

Louisville Interstate Fair to be Held in the Fall.

The Louisville Interstate Fair, which is to be held in Louisville September 28d to October 5th next, under the auspices of the Louisville Merchants and Manufacturers Association, and the Kentucky Live Stock Breeders Association, promises to be America's grandest exhibit of live stock and farm products. The executive Committee have decided that the fair shall take place on Churchill Downs, the spacious, thoroughly equipped and accessible grounds of the New Louisville Jockey Club, where thousands attended the successful race season just closed. Everything possible will be done for the safety and comfort of visitors. The nominal admission charges, together with very low railroad and steamboat passenger rates, will certainly do much to increase the volume of attendance, while the offers of large premiums and cheap shipping rates will draw exhibitors in unprecedented numbers.

The cattle show will be particularly fine and extensive, and will be held during the first week of the fair, from September 28d to September 29th, both inclusive, under the direction of the Kentucky Live Stock Breeders Association, and during the week there will be mammoth sales of live stock, including beef and dairy cattle, horses, jacks, mules, sheep and swine.

There will be $15,000.00 given in cash premiums at this show.

The fair, generally, will be a "Simon Pure" old fashioned country fair, with up-to-date and novel attractions. While the exact features cannot yet be announced, it may be said that among them will probably be speed contests on an illuminated track, including bicycle, automobile, Roman chariot and standing races, as well as running, trotting and pacing exhibitions; there will be a magnificent Roman Carnival, and a large number of thrilling mid-air acts, and attractions of high order of merit, it having been determined by the promoters to tolerate no immoral or fraudulent exhibition on the grounds.

There will be $2,500.00 given away in prizes October 4th and 5th in the champion amateur athletic meet, in which America's greatest athletes will compete. Transportation will be furnished qualifying athletes.

We are assured by the management that no pains or expense will be spared to make this fair one of the largest and grandest ever attempted in this country.

Speaking of the great steel strike, the New York Journal, with its usual democratic instinct, says: "The consolidation of capital means the consolidation of labor, and the sooner the fact is generally recognized and accepted the sooner we will have permanent industrial peace." The Journal has the cart before the horse. Unionism was strong in this country before trusts were dreamed of.—Weekly Economist.

MINERAL SPRING

Possessing Rare Qualities, Discovered at Bordley on Sam Arnold's Place.

INTERESTING UNION COUNTY NEWS.

BORDLEY, Ky., July 30.

A mineral spring has been discovered on Sam Arnold's place that removes freckles and other blemishes of the complexion. A sample of the water has been sent to medical authorities in Louisville for analysis.

The crop situation is steadily growing worse in this section. Local showers have been received in parts of Webster and Union, which have done little good. The extreme excess of corn will make a fair yield, but late crops of all kinds will be almost an entire failure.

The three-year-old child of Mr. Cal Martin, which was severely burned last week is getting along nicely.

Charles Brown and wife, of Dawson Springs, have been visiting in Webster and Union counties.

The readers of THE BEE will remember reading several months ago an account of the arrest of P. Arnold for stealing corn and his escape while out on bond. He was arrested at Smithland last week and lodged in jail at Morganfield, where he awaits his examining trial.

The Sebree camp-meeting is being well attended.

The U. M. W.'s will have a barbecue at Sturgis, August 17. A number of miners from adjoining counties in Illinois and Indiana will be invited. The proceeds will go to aid the strikers in Hopkins county in sowing discord and hatred among their fellow men.

Henry S. Fitzpatrick, the popular L. C. operator at Nortonville, who recently resigned, was formerly employed at Sturgis. His valuable services will be greatly missed by the road with whom he has always enjoyed the most cordial relations.

A large part of the trouble work on the Illinois Central is being replaced by stone. The famous anvil rock near DeKoven has been removed. This natural curiosity has been visited by many persons who will regret to learn of its removal.

"Uncle" James Arnold, a highly respected citizen of Nortonville, died Thursday, after an illness of several days. He formerly resided in this community and his remains were laid to rest in Odd Fellows' cemetery here Friday evening.

Rev. James White, of Charleston, who has been visiting in this county for several days returned home today.

Several prostrations from heat occurred during the recent hot spell, but they are not so numerous as might be expected.

Miss Anna Thomas, who has been very ill with typhoid fever, is better. Watkins Brothers have secured two threshing machines this season that are the latest out. Straw-stacking, feeding, blinding and cutting are all done by machinery.

Miss Annie Hammock, who has ill of typhoid fever, is better.

We are glad to again see items from our Red Hill friend. We like to see articles interspersed with occasional tests.

Usually at this season of the year our most progressive farmers have plowed a large portion of the land for wheat, but the dry, tropical-like weather has made it impossible for them to do so.

Rev. James Austin Burden.

The subject of this sketch was born in Ohio county, Kentucky, March 1, 1839 and died near Marion, the county seat of Crittenden county, July, 1901 in the sixty-third year of his age. He was for several years a minister in the General Baptist Church. Was ordained in October, 1878. He enlisted in the Federal Army in 1861 and for about three and a half years realized fortunes of a soldier. He was a private in the Seventeenth Kentucky Infantry and was in a number of the hardest fought battles of the civil war.

He was an active minister, active as pastor and evangelist and labored for many years in Northwestern Kentucky as well as in Southern Indiana and Southern Illinois. He was for several years a resident of Earlington and a pastor of the General Baptist Church here at the time of his death.

He left his home July 6th to engage in a meeting in Crittenden county but only preached two or three times when he was stricken with fever and gradually sank until the end came. He expressed himself as being ready to go. He desired to see his family and some of his friends but before all of the family reached him he had passed to the other shore.

Brother Burden was a man of strong native ability and an earnest preacher. He was successful as a revivalist and numbered his converts by the hundreds.

His remains were brought to Earlington and the funeral services were conducted by the writer at the General Baptist Church. The sermon was from 2 Tim. 4:7-8, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith, etc." He leaves a wife, several children, an aged mother with other relatives and many friends who have the sympathy of the Church and community. The remains repose in the beautiful city cemetery to await the resurrection morning.

DOWN IN THE MINES.

But very few of the St. Bernard men could be seen over at Madisonville last Saturday and those who were merely there to look on. A brass band and the promise of something to eat is not a sufficient inducement for those men to join an organized gang of peace destroyers and promoters of idleness.

One fellow, who along with his two boys, had been making about one hundred dollars per month working for the St. Bernard, was seen in the ranks of the enemy last Saturday carrying a flag, thus throwing away a good job without chance for remuneration or even wages, whereby he might gain a living for himself and family. A little sheep and bread given away once a year, or not so often, leadeth some weak minded astray.

Wagner J. B. Head, who manipulates the scales at the Arnold mine for the St. Bernard Coal Company again comes forward with another record breaker. One half day last week he was called upon to weigh the product of the mine for that length of time, amounting to sixteen cars. Heretofore the best days work has been about twenty-five cars per day, and the question now arises, When will Foreman Rule and his force reach the limit, and what will the limit be?

Manager Ben W. Robinson, of the Bernard Coal Company, took every precaution to see that trouble was prevented on the day of the U. M. W. picnic.

About one hundred cars of coal from the O. & N. branch of the Louisville & Nashville railroad was brought here last week, from which point it is forwarded south.

The eyes of some of the taxpayers were opened last week when it was found necessary for the county officials to put on a large number of guards to guard the mines of the county against the threatened destruction of property and lives by the U. M. W.'s. It was the proper move to make and will come nearer bringing the farmers and business men who have shown sympathy for these industry destroyers to a sense of right and duty than anything that has happened lately. "Touch some men's pockets and you will hear their heart," is an old and true saying.

Engineer James Kilroy, after a few weeks' loss of time on account of illness, is again able for duty, at his old post at the Hecla mine.

Why was it that so few of the wives and daughters of the U. M. W. attended the barbecue at the St. Bernard last Saturday? Did the father or husband warn them of danger? Did he give them the information he possessed, that the whole object of the gathering was to force recognition of the Union by an armed mob sent here from other States and counties, and they were therefore afraid and stayed away for fear of a riot.

Wallace Crenshaw has quit the mercantile business and is now employed as foreman Evansville track-layer in the No. 11 mine. He is a good worker and his friends wish him well.

The following clipping would be applied to conditions as they now are and have for many years existed between the employer and employee of the St. Bernard Coal Company. The men have the utmost confidence in their employers and are always ready to stand by them on account of kind treatment received. They have never forgotten that the St. Bernard was the first company to raise the price of mining in this region, and they appreciate this and many other kind acts as did the men in the article here reproduced: "In spite of the belief of many employers in the unresponsiveness of the workman to good treatment," remarked the president of a trust company in this city the other day, "my experience has been that in general if you treat your men rightly they will treat you well in return. When I hear discussions of the relations existing between workmen and their employers, I invariably think of an experience my father, a manufacturer of hardware in Philadelphia, had with the men employed in a factory owned by him.

"At one time some years ago, when the business in which he was engaged was being carried on with little profit, he continued to pay the established rate of wages in spite of the fact that men employed in other factories doing the same work had had their wages considerably cut down. After this had been going on for some time he was one day waited on by a committee of his workmen who asked to confer with him about their wages. Not unaccountably he was surprised and disappointed, believing that the men had come to him to ask for a compromise. It came to him to imagine what a lamentable condition was when the men informed him that they had come to insist on his reducing their wages. Why and that they had been well treated in good times, and did not wish him to suffer in bad times through his generosity to them. At first he refused to make any change, but in a body they said they would strike if he did not reduce their wages. You see, that a generous employer can find appreciation and even generosity among those whom he employs.—New York Times.

It is said that the number of U. M. W.'s who attended the picnic at Madisonville from other States could be counted upon the fingers of one hand, and one Indiana being questioned about coming intimated that he had had enough experience in the Sebree invasion to do sent away. They don't like the look of either the Kentucky coal miner or the Winchester he sometimes carries.

Our readers can form some idea of the activity now prevailing among the investors in oil and coal lands by reading this Kentucky news taken from the Manufacturers Record of last week:

Denny Oil Company has organized for developing a 200-acre lease near Gregory, Capital is $3,000, and those interested are R. A. Johnson, J. A. Baute and R. H. Bartels of Somerset.

Lexington Oil, Gas & Mining Co., with capital stock of $50,000 has been chartered by J. D. Furell as president.

T. C. H. Vance, of Louisville and M. C. Alford of Lexington have completed arrangements for incorporating the National Consolidated Oil & Gas Co. under South Dakota laws with capital stock of $50,000. Leases on oil properties will be taken in Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Puduch Gas Co., reported recently as having passed into new hands, has commenced work of repairs and improvements to cost $20,000.

Geary Oil Company has been organized for development of oil wells at Sunnybrook by Lexington and Somerset parties.

The Western Kentucky Coal and Coke Co., with capital stock of $3,000,000, has been chartered under Kentucky laws by New York and Kentucky parties for constructing a railroad from Madisonville to Dawson Springs, to found a town at Richmond and to develop coal lands along the route.

W. G. and George W. Manley, of Berlin, Mo., are investigating the coal lands of Southern Kentucky with a view to purchasing and developing.

The Sun Oil and Gas Company, with capital stock of $1,000,000, has been incorporated at Dover, Del., to bore for oil in Wayne and Clinton counties Kentucky.

TRAINING AND SCHOOL SHIPS AND THEIR GOOD WORK.

Why Two Crews of Yankee Boys Celebrated the Fourth in Edinburgh—Schoolships For Merchant Service, Training Ships For Navy.

Not the least interesting of the Fourth of July celebrations this year was that observed in the harbor of Edinburgh, Scotland. Two companies of Yankee lads met in the old town and proceeded to show the Scots how much enthusiasm could be got up about our Independence day. One of the troops of patriotic young Americans hailed from New York, and the stop at Edinburgh was part of the annual cruise of the celebrated schoolship St. Mary's. The other was composed of boys from Massachusetts, whose visit to Edinburgh was due to a similar stop of the Bay State schoolship Enterprise. It would have been even more an occasion of patriotic American rejoicing had the Pennsylvania schoolship, the Saratoga, happened to drop into Edinburgh harbor to join the St. Mary's and the Enterprise. These three vessels, now on their annual cruises, constitute the "schoolship" fleet of the United States.

Although it is quite generally believed that the schoolships are reformatory institutions, nothing is further from the truth. They are simply floating schools for instruction of boys in seamanship. They give the boys a preliminary training leading to advancement in the merchant service. Admission to the schoolships is through examination in elementary subjects and physical condition. To join the schoolship a boy must have the consent of his parents or guardians and must be of good character. The three schoolships are old vessels of the United States navy that are loaned to the States by the Department. The St. Mary's and Saratoga are sailing ships, while the Enterprise has steam power in addition. The boys are trained in navigating the vessels and in kindred subjects.

THIRSTY THROG.

No Ice and a Shortage of Liquor Made the Picnic Flat.

There was a large crowd in Madisonville Saturday, the day of the union miners' barbecue. Mayor Ross, had the saloons closed and guarded and a number of extra policemen to keep down any trouble. The mingling property throughout the county is under the protection of deputies appointed by the Sheriff. Organizer Parsell, of Indiana, made an incendiary speech on the court-house steps, after which the union miners, most of whom were strangers, marched to the picnic. Brass bands were brought from neighboring counties. There was a fine famine, too, which made more unbearable the closing of the saloons to the thirsty throng.

It is reliably reported that President Woods, of the United Mine Workers, tried to have the saloons opened, but without success. The miners of the county were all busy and scarcely any of the 2,000 employed miners could be seen at Madisonville.

A house at the Monarch mine was fired into Saturday night by a man on horseback, who fired several times. The fire was returned and the man fled. The fellow was riding a gray horse and could be plainly seen in the moonlight, but he escaped.

Look out for malaria. It is seasonable now. A few doses of PRICKLY ASH BITTERS is a sure preventive. St. Bernard Druggists.

THE LAW OF COMPENSATION.

The Drought-shortened Corn Crop Has Been Very Nearly Balanced by the Great Wheat Yield.

The Drought-shortened Corn Crop of the Central Western States Has Been Very Nearly Balanced by the Phenomenal Wheat Yield of the Season.

Chicago, July 31.—The law of compensation has come to the rescue of the western farmer. Although it is reasonably certain that the corn belt will produce a crop only reaching to two-thirds of that of last year, the very conditions responsible for this shortage have given agriculturists in the same area the most wonderful winter wheat harvest in the history of the country.

The following tables have been compiled with great care, and are the result of calculations based on over fifteen hundred reports received during the past few days from trained observers in every portion of the corn belt:

THURSDAY, AUGUST 1, 1901.

An exchange strikes its poetic harp in the following: "Sing ho for the Kentucky cow, sing ho for the little brown hen; such a couple was never on earth below, to feather the nests of. With the golden product of good Queen Bess no "udder" can compare. While the snowy fruit of the cackling 'beaut' brings a solace for every care. Men risk their lives for the golden ore laid deep in the frozen clime, when these faithful servants bring them more and peace at the self-same time. With pasture in plenty and bugs galore, they'll never lack for feed; their stock is at par at the grocery store for the things the farmers need. Then three times three for bovine 'she' and three for the female 'owl' at the farmer's door, which they feed before, no wolf has a chance to howl. No poet's dream e're hatched a theme more worthy a poet's pen, than the kindly queen of the pasture green and the busy cackling hen.

THE WEATHER.

I notice an article in some paper not long since where some blooming idiot made the startling announcement that the earth had been gradually receding from the sun for the last twenty years and that we are now one million miles further from the sun than we were twenty years ago, and furthermore it was only a matter of time when the earth would be frozen solid, all vegetation will cease and all animal life become extinct.

I wish the gentleman who made the announcement would come to Earlington and stand in front of the passenger depot from two until four p. m. I think he would come to the conclusion that his statement should be revised as this particular spot was the hottest place in North America.

When it gets so warm that the glass insulators on the telegraph and telephone poles melt and run down and the railroad iron warps and bows so the trucks won't fit you may know things are getting pretty warm in this part of the country. Upon Bald Knob the heat has been so intense it has drawn the nails out of the weather-boarding on the south side of the house and we have to prop it up with poles.

On last Tuesday when the thermometer reached 145 and burst Mrs. Timmie left two tin buckets on the shelf outside the door to sun. She had occasion to use them about three o'clock and when she picked them up the bottoms came out of both, the ears had melted off and the sides came unseparated. This statement, sounds rather fishy I know, but anyone desiring ocular proof of this we will be glad to show them the bucket handles. TIMMIE.

A ROYAL LOVE MATCH.

Duke William of Saxe-Weimar to Wed a Charming Princess.

William Ernest, grand duke of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, heir to the throne, margrave of Meissen and count of a dozen other places, has until a few days ago been considered the greatest "catch" in Europe; a royal maidens of marriageable age. He is out of that class now, however. He has openly shown his preference for one young woman, and their engagement is discussed by all interested in such matters. The girl honored by the royal preference is the Princess Alexandra Louise, daughter of the Duke of Cumberland and Teviotdale. The duke also holds the titles of duke of Brunswick and Lüneburg and was until 1892, claimant of the throne of Hanover.

Grand Duke William Ernest of Saxe-Weimar.

Princess Alexandra Louise, daughter of the Duke of Cumberland and Teviotdale. The duke also holds the titles of duke of Brunswick and Lüneburg and was until 1892, claimant of the throne of Hanover. Grand Duke William Ernest is 25 years of age and succeeded to his grandfather's titles and wealth last January. He is one of the numerous petty sovereigns whose dominions help to make up the German empire. His wealth is immense, for he owns very valuable estates in northern Germany, Holland and Austria, besides a fortune of millions in cash. As he is a reigning sovereign, it is small wonder that the Grand Duke William has been considered the best "part" of Europe. For some years royal and noble gossips have been busy with his name, no fewer than seven princesses and grand duchesses having been named as objects of his regard.

The engagement of the grand duke to the German-English princess is described as a consummation. Princess Alexandra Louise through her father is descended from the royal house of Great Britain, and her father's chief title is British. He is a great-grandson of George III. The mother of the princess is a sister of Queen Alexandra of England. Princess Alexandra Louise is quite wealthy in her own right and is one of the most beautiful of European princesses. Her grandfather was George V, the last king of Hanover. He lost that title through adherence to Austria during the Austro-Prussian war in 1866. The Duke of Cumberland, his son and heir, father of Princess Alexandra, would be reigning duke of Brunswick now were it not that he refuses to swear allegiance to Emperor William of Germany.

BELLE OF TWO CITIES.

Handsome Miss Couderd of New York Pleases Paris Society.

MISS CLAIRBORN COUDERT.

Coudert, is one of America's leading lawyers. Miss Couderd is a handsome and clever girl of mixed French and American descent, and her popularity in Paris and New York is not difficult of explanation. It was reported last spring that Miss Couderd was engaged to a young American physician, but that engagement seems to have been declared off. At any rate, it is whispered that Miss Couderd's sister, the Comtesse de Choiseul, is quite anxious to have her make a brilliant foreign match, and it may be that Miss Couderd's will be another case of the American heiress marrying the European nobleman.

MARK TWAIN'S LETTER

DECLINING INVITATION.

He Mingles Pathos and Humor in Addressing Old Friends.

Mark Twain, writing among the Adirondack lakes sends a characteristic letter, regretting his inability to be present in Kansas City on August 10, when the anniversary of the admission of Missouri into the Union, will be celebrated. He was born in Munroe county, and was one of the first to be asked to take part in the celebration of the State's eightieth birthday.

His letter is full of pathos, for, while there is ever present his rollicking, mirthful humor, one sees the tears fall and hears the choke in the voice. His letter is like an April day, with the sun shining in spite of the clouds and rain. An extract from the letter was printed in Tuesday's Commercial Tribune. In full it reads:

By an error in the plans things go wrong and first in this world; and so much precious time is lost and matters of urgent importance are fatally retarded. Invitations which a brisk young fellow should get, and which would transport him with joy, are delayed and impeded and obstructed until they are fifty years overdue when they reach him. It has happened again in this case. When I was a boy in Missouri I was always on the lookout for invitations, but they always miscarried and went wandering through the aisles of time and now they are arriving when I am old and rheumatic and can't travel and must lose my chance. I have lost a world of delight through this matter of delaying invitations. Fifty years ago I would have gone eagerly across the world to help celebrate anything that might turn. It would have made no difference to me what it was so that I was there and allowed a chance to make a noise.

The whole science of things is turned wrong-end-up. Life should begin with age and privileges and accumulations, and end with youth and its capacity to splendidly enjoy such advantages. As things are now, when in youth a dollar would bring you a hundred pleasures, you can't get it; when you are old you get it, and there's nothing worth buying with it then. It's an epitome of life. The first half of it consists of the capacity to enjoy without the chance, the last half consists of the chance without the capacity.

I am admonished in many ways that time is pushing me luxuriously along. I am approaching the threshold of age; in 1877 I shall be 142. This is not the time to be flitting about the earth; I must cease from the activities proper to youth and begin to take on the dignities and gravities and inertia proper to that season of honorable senility, which is on its way and imminent—as indicated above.

Yours is a great and memorable occasion, and as a son of Missouri I should hold it a high privilege to be there and share your just pride in the State's achievements, but I must deny myself the indulgence, while thanking you earnestly for the prized honor you have done me in asking me to be present.

The noted humorist, passing toward the end of the path which has been strewn with flowers of public appreciation and applause puts into words a thought which comes to us all. The youth, he says, has the capacity to enjoy life without the chance, while age brings the chance without the capacity.

If some mighty brain could devise the happy medium, life would be one glad, sweet song. But until this happens, it is the philosopher who points out the best way. He says to take things as they come, be they chance or capacity, and to make the best of them.

SHORT LOCALS.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. N. I. Toombs, on Friday, July 26th, a fine girl. Nick, who always smiles, now wears a broad grin.

The remains of little Annie, the two-year old daughter of James Platt, of Barnsley, were laid to rest in the Earlinton cemetery Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. The funeral was largely attended.

Stande Waitee Tribe of Earlinton will join the Tribe of the Blazing Arrow of Madisonville, in a big powwow at the Fair grounds next Wednesday. All will be dressed in full Red Men uniform.

The fishing party arrived last Friday morning from Rochester. They are all looking well and feeling better since their outing, and speak in very complimentary terms of Rochester and her people.

Mr. W. H. Stovall and Miss Ida Sparks, of St. Charles, were united in marriage in front of Hotel Luelle Saturday, by Rev. Gudin. It is becoming quite a fad, it seems, to have the nuptial knot tied in a buggy.

Mr. Elmo Shaver and family, who have been making their home at Crofton for the past year, where Mr. Shaver has been firing on the Empire Hill engine, are moving back to Earlinton to-day. Mr. Shaver will hereafter have his lay-over at this point. We are glad to welcome him back.

Tender Memories.

My mind travels back to the long ago.

When I was a barefoot boy;
Happy and care free all the day long
Brimming over with innocent joy.
How well I remember the old farm gate,

The apple tree in the lane,
The miniature pools that stood in the yard,
That I waded in after a rain.

And down in the field not far away,
Stood a shady beokery tree,
A grapevine twined round its rugged trunk.

And furnished a swing for me,
As I rose and fell on that grapevine swing.

My spirits were lighter than air;
My mind free from worry and strife
And my heart knew never a care.

I call to mind the summer day,
The sunning laughing brook,
When roaming through the fragrant wood,

I learned from nature's book,
I saw where the rain crow made his home,
And learned where the squirrels nested;

I found where Bob White hid his eggs,

But sweeter, dearer, far than these,
Was the love of Bulah Clare,
With the blue of heaven in her eyes,
And a gleam of gold brown hair.

With throbbing heart I watched her pass,
And gazed with rapturous eyes,
I thought she was an angel then—
Just come down from the skies.

Those dear old times have long since gone,
And now it's little joy,
To know I'll ne'er be happy again,
As when I was a boy.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, it acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the fountain of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in forcing it to work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A Ministers Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured." It has been calculated that something like 1,500,000,000 pints of tea are imbibed yearly by Londoners, and that the teapot necessary to contain that amount, if properly shaped, would comfortably take in the whole of St. Paul Cathedral.

MADISONVILLE, KENTUCKY.

Capital $30,000. Surplus $5,500.

THE HEADLIGHTS.

A temporary truck has been laid around the tunnel or the O. & N., and business on that road will be resumed this week from Owensboro to Russellville. This will obviate the necessity of running a daily train from Earlinton to Central City over the Illinois Central.

Don Wise, who has been working for the Monon some time, had the misfortune to lose three fingers on his right hand while coupling cars.

The fishing party from Rochester has returned. C. J. Martin reports a lovely time and says the weather was delightfully cool and pleasant; no mosquitos, no bug, no snakes, but plenty of fish and game. In fact the fish were so plentiful they would jump out of the water long enough for him to shoot them and then float until he could row out in a skiff and pick them up. The squirrels were so tame they would prwl around the tents at night and sit on their hind legs and bark so the people could not sleep. Turkeys and pheasants were plentiful, but they did not have time to kill any. According to Cal's statements everything was lovely and the proverbial goose hung as high as a telegraph pole.

Jno. W. Logsdon, the gentlemanly and urbane superintendent of this division, and J. B. Harlan, chief special agent of the L. & N. system, were in the city one day last week.

E. M. Orr has been running on one side for the last few days. He was suffering from a pain in his chest and put a mustard plaster about the size of a saddle blanket on his back and went to bed. He told us confidentially "what that mustard plaster did to him was sufficient."

Deglen McGrath, who is ill with fever, is slowly improving.

Kitchell Walker and Will Luton are running the night yard engine at Henderson for a few days.

Business on the Henderson division has been unusually good this summer. It used to be the case in the summer months that only one yard engine was needed and that one was not busy all the time, but this summer both engines are kept constantly busy and the crews are run as hard as they are in winter.

The "Henderson Route" officials report very heavy travel by their line to Oklahoma, account opening of the new lands.

The Henderson Route have just added several handsome new day coaches to their passenger equipment, which, together with fine Pullmans and elegant chair cars operated by them between Louisville and St. Louis, is gaining for the road a surprising amount of through travel.

The prettiest scenery this season of the year is that along the line of the popular "Henderson Route." Almost the entire distance from Louisville to Henderson you are in full view of the Ohio river. In addition to this the elegant ball cars of the road makes it desirable to the traveler as it is almost free from dust.

Chronic Constipation Cured.

The most important discovery of recent years is the positive remedy for constipation. Cascarets Candy Cathartic. Guaranteed. Genuine tablets stamped C. C. Never sold in bulk. Druggists, etc.

Arbuckles' famous Roasted Coffee

The low price at which Arbuckles' famous roasted coffee can be sold is made possible by its enormous sale. It should not be classed with the inferior imitations sold at a cent a pound less than Arbuckles'. It has a quality greatly superior to these imitations and makes many more cupsful to the pound. No other firm in the world can buy coffee to so good advantage as the producers of Arbuckles' Coffee. No other coffee is cleaned, roasted or blended with such great care and skill. When you buy Arbuckles' you get better quality and greater value than you can get in any other coffee at anywhere near the same price. Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or Bilelessness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied. There is nothing the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac. St. Bernard Drug Store.

RESOURCES OF CRITTENDEN.

Feldspar Rich and in Great Deposits—A Thriving Industry

Numerous Graves of the Pre-Historic Mound Builders.

Special Correspondence of THE BEE. After our arrival at Marion we look around at the town's wide streets, beautiful residences, flowery lawns, and numerous improvements until we conclude that it is one of the most beautiful and progressive towns in Kentucky.

Next we look at the vast deposits of feldspar and see the huge mills grinding it up and its being packed in barrels and shipped to the most distant parts of the world in competition with its only rival deposits—those of New Jersey and England.

Of all the minerals found in Crittenden county, which include coal, zinc, lead, iron, copper, gold, silver and many others, the feldspar deposit is the most valuable and extensive of them all. Men who were formerly supposed to be worth scarcely anything, will live comfortably the rest of their lives as the result of the feldspar development.

We watch the mines for some time and at length we grow weary of the noise and turn our footsteps across the country toward a range of hills several miles distant which are dimmed by a blue haze of smoke that seems to gradually clear away as we reach our destination.

Now we arrive at the valley close to the hills that we saw several hours ago, and in it are a large number of mounds erected in pre-historic times. The mounds vary much in size; some of them are very extensive while others are only a few feet wide and average about four feet high. In many of them are found stone vases, rude weapons and many other things peculiar to the age in which they were buried.

On the other side of the valley there is a cave in which the dust is entirely different from that of the surrounding country. It contains a large amount of saltpetre which has preserved the skeletons of Indians buried hundreds of years ago. We dig into the dust and unearth a large skeleton. From the giant frame and the manner of burial we suppose it to be the remains of a chief. Near by are found the bones of his dog, tomahawk, arrow-heads and other weapons which he was to use on the hunting grounds of the Great Spirit.

After gazing at the spectacle until our curiosity is satisfied, we retrace our footsteps and think of the days when the red man roamed the forest in search of the pleasures of his savage life, and little dreamed that in after years he would be driven from his beloved hunting grounds by civilization in its onward march.

"Luck seemed to be with me," said the Secretary, "for when I applied to the Denver and Rio Grande railway for transportation here came a reply from General Passenger Agent S. K. Hooper and his assistant, Mr. T. E. Swann, the former a New Albany boy who has gone to the top in railway passenger circles, and the latter a Louisville boy who was my classmate and playmate in my younger days. They gave me all I asked of them and more, too.

"I wish you would mention the Louisville Interstate Fair Association," continued Mr. Morningstar, "for they have done the handsome thing in arranging for that banquet at Colorado Springs, and then the Henderson Route should be given full credit for the special arranged to leave on Thursday morning, and which will carry the Eastern and Central Kentucky members to Madisonville.

"The attendance at Madisonville and the number to take the trip will exceed all former records, which makes it necessary for everybody to be at Madisonville on Thursday afternoon, when the transportation to the trip will be issued. Those who are there at that time will be provided for first."

A barbecue luncheon will be given at Lakeside Park to the members of the Kentucky Press Association and their ladies. This entertainment is extended to the Press of Kentucky by the St. Bernard Coal Company. Mayfield, Ky., July 25.—Ligon, Allen & Co., a tobacco firm of this city, filed a damage suit yesterday against the Graves County Water and Light Company for $45,400. Other suits were filed today against the same company. The attorneys are preparing other suits which they will file in a few days, which will total over $80,000. Sturgis Items.

STURGIS, Ky., July 26. A sad accident occurred in the streets of our splendid little city last Monday. A horse drawing a buggy ran away. As he was passing through Adams street a brace lad of about twelve years, by the name of Jones Berry, attempted to stop him which resulted in him being knocked down and run over. Two large and very ugly gashes were cut in his head leaving a portion of the skull bare. Several stitches were necessary to close the cuts. Drs. Linde and Haynes attended the sufferer. Later it was discovered that his nose was broken and several minor injuries needed careful attention. He at present is improving but is not out of danger.

The farmers are blue over the loss of their corn crop but apparently happy that they receive good prices for last year's crop which seems to exist in considerable quantities.

NEBO, July 28. We have been blessed with a nice shower of rain today which was badly needed. Everything and everybody seem to be refreshed and invigorated by it. It came too late to be very beneficial to corn but will help tobacco considerably.

For Malaria, Chills and Fever

THE BEST PRESCRIPTION IS Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

The formula is plainly printed on every bottle—hence you know just what you are taking when you take Grove's. Imitators do not advertise their formula knowing that you would not buy their medicine if you knew what it contained. Grove's contains Iron and Quinine put up in correct proportions and is in a Tasteless form. The Iron acts as a tonic while the Quinine drives the malaria out of the system. Any reliable druggist will tell you that Grove's is the Original and that all other so-called Tasteless Chill Tonics are imitations. An analysis of other chill tonics shows that Grove's is superior to all others in every respect. You are not experimenting when you take Grove's—its superiority and excellence having long been established. Grove's is the only Chill Cure sold throughout the entire malarial sections of the United States. No Cure, No Pay. Price, 50c.
